the verdict, and had filed a Review Petition explaining the Government's policy in detail. After considering the Review Petition, Hon'ble Supreme Court while dismissing it on April 1, 1991 made the following observations.

> "We have decided the matter on the basis of the material made available to us at the time of arguments and on the basis of contentions made by counsel representing the respective parties. The case as such was decided on the peculiar facts, and circumstances of the case and in case such controversy arises in future of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes employees of other banks, in our view the parties will be free to get the controversy decided by a proper forum by placing their respective stands."

The judgement of the Supreme Court in the Writ Petition 847/87 is, therefore, applicable only in respect of the SC|ST employees in the Syn dicate Bank. The Bank concerned has reported that it has taken steps to implement the judgement of the Hon'ble Supreme Court.
